To those who were personally acquainted with Dr. Chilton, the knowledge of his refined taste and keen perceptive qualities will be the best guarantee of the character of the collection now offered to the public. Numismatics must have been one of his favorite studies, as he commenced collecting American specimens when little more than twelve years of age, and until within a few weeks of his last illness attended all the prominent sales, purchasing with his usual good taste and an unabated ardor.

During a more than ordinarily earnest career in his legitimate calling, he found time to pursue his tastes for literature and the general sciences. But always modest in speaking of his own acquirements, few, with the exception of those of his own immediate circle, were aware how wide a range of subjects he embraced. His friends will, however, appreciate the appropriateness of dedicating the following lines from the In Memoriam to his memory:

Thy converse drew us with delight,
The men of rathe and riper years;
The feeble soul, a haunt of fears,
Forgot his weakness in thy sight.

The stern were mild when thou wert by,
The flippant put himself to school
And heard thee, and the brazen fool
Was softened, and he knew not why.

ANCIENT SILVER COINS.

GREEK, GREEK COLONIAL, PARTHIAN, ASSYRIAN, ETC.

"That Greek coins, as works of art, have been and still are the admiration of the most eminent artists, is a fact too well known to need remark. But it is not in this respect alone that they are prized by the learned and curious. As records of customs, ceremonies, and superstitions; as memorials of illustrious men, and as striking illustrations of ancient geography, the coins of Greece may take precedence of all other ancient monuments."—Ackerman's Numismatic Manual, page 13.

| 679 | 1653 | Another Commonwealth Shilling. Obv. and Rev. same as above. Date 1653. Very good. |
| 680 | 1658 | Shilling of Oliver Cromwell. Head of the Protector laureated with his name and style. Rev. the arms of England surcharged with his paternal coat, surmounted by a crown, and round the whole, the legend—Pax Quaeritur Bello. 1658. This date is according to Hawkins, exeedingly rare. By Simon. Very good. |
| 681 | 1658 | Crown of Oliver Cromwell. Head of the Protector, laureated with his name and style. Rev. the arms of England surcharged with his paternal coat and surmounted by a regal crown, and around the whole, the legend—Pax Quaeritur Bello. Inseription on edge. This crown is by the inimitable Simon, and bears the exeeedingly rare date, 1658. In good preservation. |
| 682 | 1662 | Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. arms of England and France quarterly in upper and lower shield; Ireland on the right and Seotland on the left. Latin inscription on the edge, "Deeus et Tutamen, 1662." In exeellent preservation and rare. |
| 683 | 1663 | Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. differs from the last, in having the arms of England, France, Seotland, and Ireland, eaeh charging a separate shield. Good, but piereed. |
| 684 | 1682 | Crown of Charles 2d. Laureated head of the King. Rev. four shields, each charged separately with the arms of England, France, Scotland, and Ireland; inscription on edge, "Trieesimo quarto." Good. |
| 685 | 1696 | Crown of William 3d. Laureated head of King. Rev. arms erosswise in four shields; Nassau in the eentre. In fine preservation. |

| No. | Date. | |
|---|---|---|
| 686 | 1696 | Crown of William 3d. Laureated head of the King; the bust slightly altered from No. 685. Rev. arms crosswise in four shields; Nassau in the centre. Very good. |
| 687 | 1707 | Crown of Queen Anne. Bust of the Queen; head bound with a fillet. Rev. the arms of England and Scotland impaled in the upper and lower shields: France at the right, Ireland at the left, with "E." under the bust, because struck in Edinburgh. It belongs to the Scottish series. In good preservation, and rare. |
| 688 | 1708 | Crown of Queene Anne; same as above. Good, but piereed. |
| 689 | 1819 | Crown of George 3d. The King's bust to the right laureate, hair short. "Georgius 3d, D. G. Britanniarum. Rex. F. D. 1819." Rev. St. George and the dragon, within the garter inscribed with its usual motto. The letters upon the edge of the coin are in high relief. This piece was engraved by Sig. Pistrucci. Good. |
| 690 | 1820 | Crown of George 3d. Same as above. Very good. |
| 691 | 1804 | Bank of England piece of George 3d. Obv. bust of the King to the right, laureated and draped. Rev. Britannia within an oval band, on which is inscribed, "Five shillings—dollar;" the oval surmounted by a mural crown. Very good. |
| 692 | 1821. | Crown of George 4th. Bust of the King to the left, laureated, the neek bare. "Georgius 4th, D. G. Britannia Rex. F. D." Underneath the bust "B. P.," the initials of Pistrucci, by whom the die was engraved. Rev. the George and dragon, as upon the crowns of his father, but of larger dimensions, and omitting the garter. Very good and rare. |

France to the right, Ireland to the left, and the star of the order of the garter in the centre. In fine preservation, and exceedingly rare. |
| 715 | 1723 | Shilling of George 1st. Bust of King to the right, the hair long and laureate; the shoulders invested with armor, a slight drapery over. The legend contains all the King's English titles, with the additions of F. D. for Fidei Defensor, then first inserted, though a title of the British sovereigns ever since conferred by the Pope upon King Henry 8th. Rev. arms crosswise, cross of the garter in the centre, bearings changed by the introduction of the King's German dominions. S. S. C. in angles, denoting that the silver was derived from the South Sea Company. Very good. |
| 716 | 1743 | Shilling of George 2d. Head of the King to the left, hair long, laureate; body invested with armor, upon the shoulder a lion's head, drapery around the breast. Rev. shields crosswise, roses in angles for West of England silver. This piece is engraved by Tanner, and is in excellent preservation. |

| 2960 | | Finely executed portrait of Bishop Provoost, (the first Bishop of New York,) by Benjamin West, in his full episcopal robes, and wearing the large English episcopal wig, which he only of all our bishops ever wore. Samuel Provoost was born in the city of New York, on the 26th of February, (O. S.) 1742. He accepted a call as assistant minister of Trinity Church, in 1766, but showing too much sympathy with the Colonies, in their disputes with England, to suit its members, who took sides with the mother country, Mr. Provoost resigned his post, and retired to a small farm which he had purchased at East Camp, then in Dutchess County, N. Y. When the Convention which formed the first Constitution of the State of New York, met at Kingston, in 1777, Mr. Provoost was elected Chaplain, but refused the office, saying: "In the beginning of the present war, I remarked with great concern that the Church clergy were unanimous in opposing the measures of a vast | majority of their countrymen. As I entertained political opinions opposite to those of my brethren, I was apprehensive that a profession of them might be imputed to an ungenerous desire of rising on their ruin. To obviate any suspicions of this kind, I have formed a resolution never to accept any preferment during the present contest, although as a private person I have been, and I shall always be, ready to encounter any danger that may be incurred in the defense of our invaluable liberties." The same motives led him to decline the rectorship of St. Michael's Church, Charleston, South Carolina, and another offer to take charge of King's Chapel, Boston. Yet, during this time, he writes: "I have no salary or income of any kind, the estate which formerly supported me being in the hands of the enemy, ever since they took possession of New York, and I am prevented by the canons of the Church from entering into any secular employment." Mr. Provoost remained upon his farm from 1770 to 1784. His patient endurance of poverty and privation gained for him the reputation with the American party of a patriot clergyman, and almost a martyr. When the war of Independence was brought to a close, in 1783, a friend of Mr. Provoost writes to him from New York city: "I have to congratulate you upon the happy alteration in affairs here. You have a very strong party, who will spare no exertions for you. They even talk of making you Bishop of New York;" which, being determined by the members of the Convention of the Diocese, in 1786, he visited England in company with his friend, Dr. White, for consecration. It was at this time that West, then in the zenith of his fame, is believed to have painted this picture. The venerable Dr. Francis, in his discourse before the New York Historical Society, in 1857, remarks, concerning Bishop Provoost, that "his learning, his liberality, and his patriotism have been too much overlooked." Size 36½ inches by 28. In a handsome gilt frame.

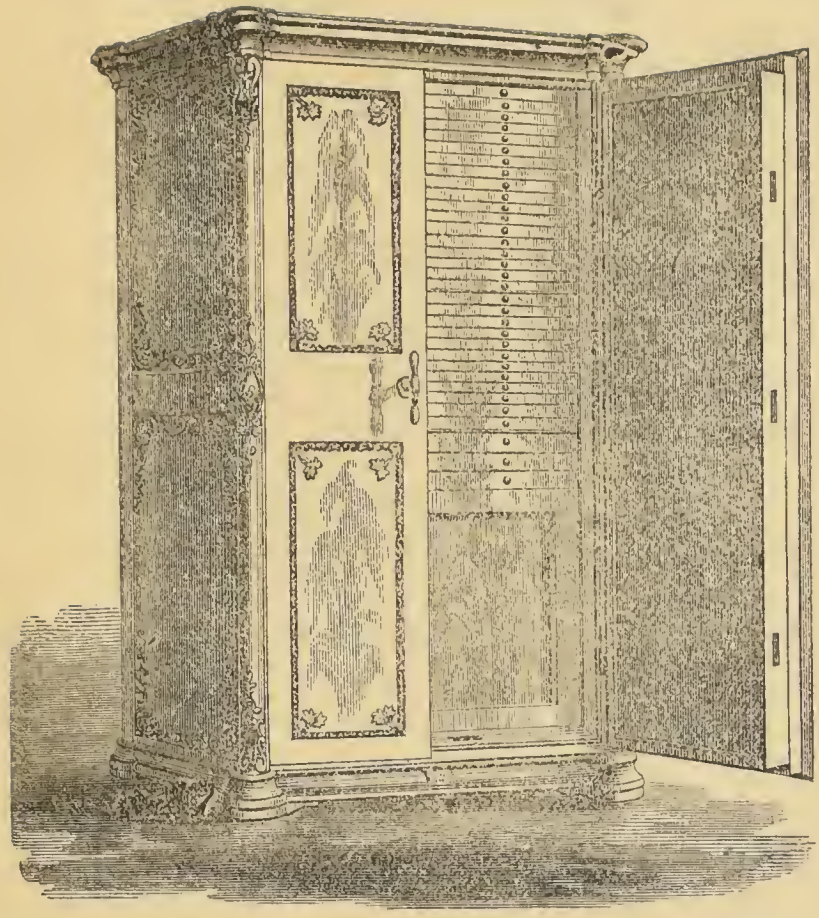
2961 Eighteen fine steel Engravings of the preceding portrait, by J. C. Buttre. The likeness perfectly preserved, and in that high style of art for which Mr. Buttre is so justly celebrated.

2962 Satin wood inlaid Cabinet for Medals, (formerly belonging to Governor De Witt Clinton; the drawers lined with dark velvet.

2963 Ornamental Iron Fire Proof Safe, with white marble slab. Made by Messrs. Valentine & Butler especially for this collection, under the immediate direction of Dr. Chilton. The cabinet work is very superior. It contains two closets for securing valuable papers and jewelry, and sixty-six drawers, sixteen inches wide by fourteen three-eighths inches long, running on grooves, and resting directly upon one another, thus economising space. Sixty of the drawers are one inch deep, and six prepared for larger medals two inches in depth.

The doors work easily on their hinges, and are lined with maroon velvet with gilt bordering.

Outside Dimensions.—Height, 5 feet 7½ inches; width, 3 feet 10½ inches; depth, 23 inches.



The above is a very correct representation.
